

CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1

The Other Methodology of the Other . . . . .	9
A Theory and Praxis of HospitALTERITY . . . . .	9
Fichteian Hating versus Kantian Hosting . . . . .	18
Today's Transvalued Humanism after Anti-Humanism . . . . .	28
A Philosophy of Affective Alterity: Love, Faith, and Democracy . . . . .	39
Poetics and Politics. From Literary to Social Hospitality . . . . .	56
Action! – After Hannah Arendt and Performative Art . . . . .	64

CHAPTER 2

Interpreting Art, Interpreting Subjectivities, Interpreting Shared Life . . . . .	67
Toward a Philoxenia of the Verbal and the Visual. . . . .	67
Sergei Mikhailovich Eisenstein's Affective (Inter)textuality and (Inter)visuality . . . . .	70
Of Beauty, Brain and Sacred Bodysouls: Sublimation, Mother-Daughter, and Tenderness according to Helen Chadwick . . . . .	84
Alina Szapocznikow's Vulnerable Fetishes of Her Self . . . . .	97
Krystiana Robb-Narbutt's Art: Biophilia Against Trauma . . . . .	105
Women's Theatre à la polonaise Bisexuality and Jewishness on Stage . . . . .	113

CHAPTER 3

The Power of Culture and Activism against the Far Right . . . . .	125
Nationalism, Economic Neo-Liberalism, and Necrophilia . . . . .	131
A Successful Uprising? . . . . .	141
Culture, Always Already Counterculture . . . . .	145
The Art of Revolt . . . . .	150
The Social Impact of Art Exhibitions . . . . .	157
Intertextuality as HospitALTERITY . . . . .	164
The Transeuropa Public Art Festival in the Intercultural City of Lublin . . . . .	169

Hostility toward Jewishness and Interculturality . . . . .	182
A Brief Literary History of Cleanliness and Abjection in Poland . . . . .	189
The Power of Poetry and the Crisis of the Academy . . . . .	196
Art versus Moral Revolution in Poland and the U.S. . . . .	201
CHAPTER 4
The Paradox of Poland and Europe:
Caught Between Hostility and Hospitality . . . . .	211
A Fragile Legal and Political Context . . . . .	213
Culture and Activism Strike Back . . . . .	227
A Hidden His-tory: Masculinity, Hysteria, and Homosexuality . . . . .	238
A History of Male Hysteria . . . . .	242
Against the Philosophy of the Death Drive . . . . .	251
The Birth of Homosexuality . . . . .	254
A Visual Politics of Europe's LGBTQ Visibility Campaigns . . . . .	267
The Art of Imagining Futurity – after Ernst Bloch, Hannah Arendt, and Today . . . . .	269
A Queer Utopia of Love . . . . .	271
An LGBTQ Dream of Diversity? . . . . .	280
A Queer Utopia of Childhood . . . . .	283
The Future-in-Love and in-Hospitality . . . . .	285
CHAPTER 5
A Political Philosophy of Hope versus Horror . . . . .	291
Eastern Europe's Tales of Terror: the Gothic Art of Paulius and Svajone Stanikas . . . . .	301
Hope: the Hospitality of a New Civil Society . . . . .	320
Research as Activism: Thinking, Visualizing, and Performing the Ideas and Images of the Other . . . . .	326
Bibliography . . . . .	333